

A BILL to amend "An Act to promote the useful arts," Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That a record of the date of the receipt of every application for issue, reissue, or extension of, or for an addition to a patent, and of the filing of a disclaimer or caveat, and of the receipt and transmission of all letters, papers, and documents relating thereto, shall be kept in the Patent Office; and all such letters, papers, and documents, so received, shall be filed and kept in said office.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That in case of the rejection of any such application, the Commissioner of Patents shall cause to be recorded in the Patent Office particularly, and at length, all his reasons for his decision on such application; and he shall, on granting any such application, cause record to be made, (when the same is objected to by any party interested; and he shall also cause a like record to be made without objection being made thereto at the time, whenever he shall be requested so to do by a party interested, within three months from the time of such grant, and in case of the decision of the Commissioner against any such application, or against an objection made to any such application, predicated upon any prior publication of the invention claimed, the Commissioner shall cite the name of such publication, and the page or pages thereof, that shall contain the alleged bearing on the case, and shall also be evidence in all cases in which the same shall be brought in to the same effect as the original would be if duly proved; and such documentary evidence so on file shall be presumed, prima facie, to be genuine.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That in a reissue of a patent, the reissued patent shall include as claimed and patented only what shall appear from the petition of the original patentee, or from the specification, drawings, and illustrations, or from the original patent, or from the original application of matter, deposited in the Patent Office, was known to the inventor, and appertained to the application, use, and practice of his invention, improvement, or discovery, at the time of taking out the original patent, or shall appear by similar evidence, and shall also be evidence in all cases in which the same shall be brought in to the same effect as the original would be if duly proved; and such documentary evidence so on file shall be presumed, prima facie, to be genuine.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That in a re-
issue of a patent, the reissued patent shall include
the specification, drawings, and illustrations, or from
the original patent, or from the original application
of matter, deposited in the Patent Office, was
application, use, and practice of his invention, improvement, or discovery, at the time of taking out
evidence, and shall also be evidence in all cases
such documentary evidence so on file shall be presumed, prima facie, to be genuine.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That on the petition of any person against whom a suit may be pending in any of the Circuit or District Courts of the United States for the infringement of a patent, and such security being given as the Court may order for the payment of costs, proceedings on scire facias, according to the principles of Common Law, may be had in such Court, to test and declare null and void such patent, and upon such proceedings on scire facias being commenced, all proceedings at law or in equity against such person or persons shall be stayed until the determination of the proceedings on scire facias, or the further order of the Court obtained after due notice of application therefor. The petitioner for such proceedings shall set forth on oath the pendency of the case against him, the name and residence of the patentee, and the date of the patent, and shall also set forth the grounds of their reference to the Patent Office, of all parties interested in such patent, either as patentees, assignees, or acting under any license or other contract, and give such notice to those residing within such district, as the Court in its discretion may order and direct. As persons interested in such patent, and who may be called in to defend the same, shall be bound to appear, and to defend the same, in the terms, if any, prescribed by the Court, on their application for that purpose. In case it shall appear on trial, that the patentee had no right to a patent for the invention, art, discovery, composition of matter, design, or improvement set forth in the specification, or intended to have been patented, judgment shall be given against the patent, and the same shall be null and void; and a certified copy of such judgment shall be forwarded by the Clerk of said Court to the Patent Office, and there be recorded. And the petitioner shall in such case recover costs. In case it shall appear on the trial that the patent is invalid by reason of some defect of informality, and not appear that the patentee had, as aforesaid, no right to a patent, judgment of its invalidity for such defect of informality shall be entered, and the cost to be paid as the Court may in its discretion order and direct. In case of no cause of invalidity of the patent shall appear, the party defending the same shall recover his costs from the petitioner.

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted, That any one or more of the parties shall have a right to appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States, in any case in which the validity of a patent is in question, and such appeal shall be taken within the time prescribed by law, and in accordance with the provisions of the act in that behalf made, and in any proceeding by scire facias, for a repeal of a patent.

Sec. 7. And be it further enacted, That in all applications to Congress, or to the Patent Office, for an extension of a patent, or addition to, or reissue of the same, the applicant shall give notice of such intended application, in writing, to the two daily papers printed and published in the City of Washington, the first publication to be made at least sixty days before said application; and any patent extended, added to, or reissued, in contravention to the provisions of this section, shall be null and void.

Sec. 8. And be it further enacted, That any and all additions, reissues, or extension of a patent or reissue, by special bill, or otherwise, shall be null and void, unless the same shall have been obtained by fraud and circumvention, either in communicating to Congress in the form of a petition or otherwise, an erroneous or false statement of facts relative thereto, or by reissue or addition, or its merits for an extension, or by concealing from Congress any important facts or facts connected therewith, such extension, addition or reissue shall be adjudged to be fraudulent and void.

Sec. 9. And be it further enacted, That all rules, by-laws, and orders for regulating or governing the transactions of business in the Patent Office, shall be reduced to writing by the Commissioner in a book kept for that purpose, which shall be open for public inspection; all such rules, by-laws, and orders, shall be general in their character, and apply alike to every case, and to all persons who have intercourse with the office.

Sec. 10. And be it further enacted, That the Commissioner of Patents be authorized to employ two additional clerks, at a compensation each of — dollars per annum, whose duty it shall be to make the necessary drawings and specifications, and all other necessary papers for applications for patents, and to receive, or reissues of the same, without a fee or reward therefor; and he shall be authorized to do by the party applicant; provided, however, That all expense attending the same be defrayed by the applicant.

Sec. 11. And be it further enacted, That copies of foreign Patents and the specifications thereunto belonging, describing any invention or discovery in the arts or sciences, that may be certified as correct copies of the originals by any Consul or Vice-Consul of the United States, and the original and official seal, shall be read in evidence in any suit either in equity or at law in any of the Circuit Courts of the United States. And the Consul or Vice-Consul shall be subject to the same penalties for false certifying any of said papers, as exist in other cases of issuing false certificates; provided, also, That certified copies shall be subject to disproof according to the rules of the common law.
